

UFC 100 live weight-in results

By Bryan Alvarez

This place is packed, "sold out". Never seen it like this. Curtained off 2/3 of Mandalay arena, though. Doubt they were expecting so many. They're also filling up for the Hall of Fame ceremony already.

1. Shannon Gugerty (156) vs. Matt Grice (155).
2. Tom Lawler (184) vs. CB Dolloway (186).
3. Dong Hyun Kim (171) vs. TJ Grant (170).
4. Jon "Bones" Jones (206) vs. Jake O'Brien (206).
5. Mac Danzig (154) vs. Jim Miller (155).
6. Mark Coleman (205) vs. Stephan Bonnar (205). Coleman looked really old and not at all happy on the scale.
7. Jon Fitch (170) vs. Paulo Thiago (170).
8. Alan Belcher (186) vs. Yoshihiro Akiyama (185).
9. Dan Henderson (185) vs. Michael Bisping (186). TONS of boos for Bisping. A hated man. He was in tremendous shape, though, probably his best ever. Henderson was beloved.
10. Georges St. Pierre (170) vs. Thiago Alves (170). Alves made weight. Looks nothing like the Alves we see in the Octagon, which means he's going to put on close to 30 pounds in the next 24 hours. In fact, he might have gained 10 pounds by the time we get to the Lesnar vs. Mir weigh-in, which is next.
11. Brock Lesnar (265) vs. Frank Mir (245). Mir got the first standing ovation of the evening. Mir came in lighter than one would think but was in great shape. Tons of boos for Brock, but less than for Bisping.

Rogan interviewed Mir afterward. Interestingly, he got some boos here. Didn't have much to say. Brock got booed as well during his interview. "It's all over but the crying, baby," he said. "That's all I have to say. See you tomorrow night."
