

As soon as Tammy Sytch was released Tuesday from jail, take a guess where she went? Back to the home of Damien Darling.

Police were called and she was arrested on third degree burglary and her daily charge of violating a protective order. She is being held without bond.