Spike has UFC all day today with episodes of Unleashed from 4-9 p.m. as the lead in for week two of The Ultimate Fighter reality show, which airs tonight at 9 p.m., 11 p.m. and midnight.

One of the year's biggest issue, our annual WrestleMania issue of the Observer is coming up this week. This covers the big show of the year, as well as both ROH shows, both Dragon Gate shows, the debut of Tough Enough and Hall of Fame detailed coverage.

We also look at the business records for WrestleMania, looking at where the show stands including a list of every WWE show in history that has topped 60,000 in attendance, which numbers were real, faked or papered, as well as the 25 biggest gates in North American pro wrestling and MMA history including figures that have never been reported up to this point. We also look at who has drawn the most top 25 gates in history. We also have a listing of the wrestlers who have had the most match time in the history of WrestleMania.

We have a number of lead stories including the announcement of the WWE name change, the political issues and announcements for Rock vs. John Cena at next year's WrestleMania, looking at the announcement, and trying to keep the issue from cooling off while not burying John Cena at the same time.

We also have a full report of the year's biggest show, including reaction, poll results, match-by-match coverage with star ratings, the story of Undertaker vs. HHH and it stealing the show, what went wrong in John Cena vs. Miz, creative, gambling, celebrities and more.

The issue will be up on the site today. A back issue from early 1994 will also be up this week. Between the Observer and Figure Four Weekly, we have about 14 issues put up every month and dozens of new audio shows for web site subscribers including coverage after the shows of every major pro wrestling and MMA event.

You can also order print copies of the Observer with details below.

We also look at the Hall of Fame ceremony, including changes for television, as well as a look at all the inductees and the speeches.

We also look at many of the big names from the past at the Hall of Fame ceremony, including a Hall of Famer that almost nobody recognized. We have notes on the goings on at WrestleMania, Steve Austin talk Tough Enough, Snooki talks wrestling, Celebrity match that wasn't at Mania, former WWE star who hasn't been back in years will make appearance on Tough Enough, Austin's next movie role, Edge talks future as well as competition with UFC, myths about the current WWE audience, where wrestlers stand mainstream and a recent WWE signing.

We also have a look at the ROH shows, business of the shows and where things are going.

We also look at the first episode of the return of Tough Enough, more on some of the participants, and the eliminations.

We also look at every major MMA world champion who won their title before the age of 26.

We also look at Bobby Lashley and Phil Baroni attempting to rebuild their careers on the indie MMA circuit, and what went right and wrong for both of them.

We've got ratings of all the national shows including how every segment on Raw and Impact did and what viewers came and left. In particular this week we look at the post-WrestleMania, as well as first looks at Tough Enough, Ultimate Fighter, Hall of Fame show and more.

We also have our usual weekly features with results of the major arena shows from around the world, and the major TV show rundowns and reviews.

The Wrestling Observer ranges from 25,000 to 40,000 words covering pro wrestling and MMA all over the world.

Each issue has coverage and analysis of all the major news, plus every issue breaks major news stories before the Internet sites and has the most complete look at the business as a whole anywhere.
